SUBJECT: DAILY HIGHLIGHT

Plant Name Diablo Canyon Court Decision on Spent Fuel
Pool Expansion

On July 2, 1986, the U.S. Court of Appeals in San Francisco, responding to a motion for a stay by intervenors, issued an order regarding the Diablo Canyon spent fuel pool reracking. The Court ordered that PG&E may proceed, at its own risk, with the reracking of the Unit 1 pool (intervenors had requested a stay) but shall not store any spent fuel in the pool without Court approval. The Court further ordered that PG&E shall not commence with the reracking of the Unit 2 pool without Court approval. A hearing on this matter will be scheduled for August 1986. PG&E expects to shutdown Unit 1 for the first refueling in late August/early September.
