NRC Schedules Regulatory Conference with The Queen's Medical Center

The Nuclear Regulatory Commission will hold a regulatory teleconference on Aug. 11 with officials from The Queen's Medical Center to discuss three apparent violations of regulatory requirements identified by the NRC during an inspection at the licensee's facility in Honolulu, Hawaii.

The teleconference will begin at 12 p.m., Central Time, and will be open to the public. NRC officials will be available to answer questions following the business portion of the meeting. The public will have the opportunity to listen to the meeting and ask questions via a phone bridge by calling 888-396-5273, passcode 7296400#.

The purpose of the conference is to discuss apparent violations documented in a June 26 inspection report. The apparent violations involve the licensee's failure to monitor the occupational exposure of physicians involved in radiology procedures.

No decision on the final safety significance of the apparent violations or any NRC actions will be made at the meeting.
