General Comment

In Michigan two rightwing twits (sorry for the repetition) tried to intimidate voters through thousand of robocalls.

"Jack Burkman and Jacob Wohl were each charged last week with one count of intimidating voters, one count of conspiracy to commit an election law violation, one count of using a computer to commit the crime of intimidating voters and using a computer to commit the crime of conspiracy."

Because all the GOP has to campaign on is corruption and failure, they have adopted a two-prong strategy:

- 1) Try to rig the election through disenfranchising voters, kneecapping the postal service, voter intimidation, etc.
- 2) And then accuse the Democrats of being the ones trying to rig the election

Look, I understand that Trump has a lot of fans. So I don't want to hurt anyone's feelings by pointing out that he's a racist, sexist, incompetent ignoramus in an orange fright wig. Oops - sorry, I didn't mean to say that. What I meant to say is that Covid-19 couldn't happen to a nicer guy.
