Dear President Tiny Hands,

You really are seventeen kinds of idiot, y'know? First you ignored the pandemic. And then - because you're a complete moron - you told Bob Woodward ON TAPE that you knew the pandemic was deadly, but you liked to play it down.

Then you outsourced the pandemic response to Pence... but when you got jealous of his air time you put your only ugly mug on the screen so you could babble about disinfectants and a "tremendous light." Late night comedians should be sending your royalties since they just quoted you word for word.

And then because you're totally inept you caught Covid-19, along with at least twenty of your associates. And instead of being humbled by this you bragged that it was a "blessing" and that you're now cured and "immune."

I shouldn't give you any tips, but here's a freebie. There is this big group called older voters, who supported you in 2016. A lot of them have noticed that you don't give a rat's behind whether they live or die. And if you think that this is winning them over, you really are seventeen kinds of idiot.
