Good Morning,

Sorry about that confusion. We still plan on performing the leak tests annually, but plan on performing the inventory semi-annually. Once during leak tests and once 6 months after. I have put a reminder for both due dates into my outlook calendar. Please let me know if that clears it up.

Thanks

Kyle Turpin

Kyle –

Good Morning. In your response to the inspection you indicated that you were going to perform inventory when you do leak tests. Since inventory is required semi-annually, and leak tests are annual. Does this mean that you are going to do semi-annual leak tests? Because if not you would not be performing inventory at the required frequency. Can you please clarify the intent of that response. Thanks so much.
