The answer to your question below is yes.

A written response should include, for the apparent violation: (1) the reason for the apparent violation or, if contested, the basis for disputing the apparent violation; (2) the corrective steps that have been taken and the results achieved; and (3) the corrective steps that will be taken. You may also provide any information that you feel might clarify the characterization of the apparent violation.

Your response should be emailed to me and emailed to R4Enforcement@nrc.gov within 30 days of the date of our letter to you or by December 8, 2021. If an adequate response is not received by December 8, 2021, or an extension of time has not been granted by the NRC, the NRC will proceed with its enforcement decision.

John,

I apologize for not getting back to you sooner. I was wondering if I could submit a written letter in lieu of attending a PCR or ADR?

Magnus.

Attached is the "choice letter" we discussed about a month ago. If you have any questions, email or call me. In addition, when you decide how you want to proceed, let me know.

Thanks,
