Mr. Kelly:

We are writing in response to your email dated December 18, 2021, which addressed Materials Testing Consultants, Inc.'s ("MTC") (EIN: 38-1866284) prior correspondence dated December 14, 2021, in which MTC provided additional information to the U.S. Nuclear Regulatory Commission ("NRC") for a proposed indirect transfer of control of NRC License No. 21-15281-02 (the "License").

Pursuant to our prior discussions, we would like to request a withdrawal of our request for transfer of control. Along with this withdrawal of our request, we would like the public posting of our initial request and all related correspondence be removed from the ADAM public database.

This is just to advise that you company can move forward with the planned transaction as no consent from the agency appears to be necessary. Please submit a request to withdraw the request for agency consent, which will allow me to void out this action on my end. As a note, I am currently sick and expect to be out of the office for the next several days. If you need immediate assistance, you can contact my supervisor, Robert Orlikowski. Mr. Chazell:

Attached is additional information from U.S. NRC Materials License No. 21-15281-02 (Materials Testing Consultants, Inc.), in response to my request for additional or clarifying information letter dated December 10, 2021.

The response clarifies and corrects previous statements and now confirms that the management of Materials Testing Consultants, Inc., will remain unchanged except that the President will now be reporting to a new Board of Directors and shareholders. The Board of Directors and new shareholders will include TMCH Platform Three, LLC, Michael O'Neill and Erik Latterell, but these individuals will not have involvement in the day-to-day operations of Materials Testing Consultants, Inc.

With this information, it does not appear that a change of control has occurred. Therefore, no agency consent to the change of control is needed. Please advise if you should have any outstanding concerns.
