Subject: [External_Sender] RE: RE: ExxonMobil Highland bond [REDACTED] release request

Tom –

Regarding the ExxonMobil Highland Bond [REDACTED] release request... It appears that it would be best for the NRC to stamp or write “void” (or something to that effect) on the bond and email a copy along with the cancellation letter via email. After it has been accepted by the surety, the NRC can shred the bond.

If it’s easier, you can mail me a copy of the original bond itself and I can handle from there (assuming this is possible).

I’ve attached a template letter suggested by our surety company. It’s not required – just a suggestion of the type of wording they typically request.

Thanks!
