I need more information about the CNA tube. Is this one of the Sodern devices? We cannot terminate the license as long as you possess the CNA tube. Please let me know if you expect to dispose/transfer of it in the very near future (within a month) or if you will retract your request to terminate the license.

When you dispose or transfer the CAN tube, please obtain a document verifying it is received. We also need verification that the other Sodern device was received by its owner in order to terminate the license.

Thanks,
Betsy

Good afternoon Betsy, at this moment we have one CNA tube in our facility. It is in the transporting box (were it came), and isolated in a room. The other one (Sodern), was sent to the owner last year. We put it on the box (were it came) and sent it. If you want, you can call me to talk about this. My contact number is 17872371782.

Regards!

Mr. Rivera,

The information provided with the request to terminate the license indicated the disposal only of the Cesium gauges. According to our inspection records, you also possess two SODERN gauges containing tritium. Please let us know the current status of these gauges. If these gauges were disposed of or transferred to another licensee, please provide us with documentation of the disposal or transfer.

Information may be provided by a pdf copy of a document signed by a management representative, and may be emailed directly to me.

Thank you,
