On December 6, 2024, the staff received from Westinghouse Electric Company (WEC) an advanced copy of the proposed "-A" version of the Advanced Logic System (ALS) Version 2 digital instrumentation and control platform topical report (TR) for staff confirmation and verification. The "-A" version of the TR incorporates the staff's final safety evaluation, which was issued September 30, 2024, (ML24236A211), and the final version of the TR. Following the staff review, WEC plans to officially submit the "-A" version of the TR. Upon verification of the "-A" version, a verification letter will be issued which would signify that the ALS Version 2 can be implemented across any reactor in the US fleet. WEC plans to utilize the ALS Version 2 in their eVinci microreactor, which is currently under preapplication engagement. Staff is raising this TR review to attention due to the following recent media coverage.
