Good afternoon, Steve:

Our office has reviewed your October 7, 2024, request to list Jacque Bickley, Quality and Compliance Director, as Radiation Safety Officer on the referenced radioactive materials license. We have reviewed the training certificate for the course completed from November 3-4, 2022, and have noted that it appears to be limited to online material. Limited details regarding that training, or additional training and experience were included in the request.

Could you please provide a signed and dated letter containing any additional hands-on experience that Jacque Bickley has with the licensed materials – or overseeing the use of those materials - authorized under the license, or with other radioactive materials? If possible, could you also include an agenda or list of topics covered in the online training course? Finally, if Jacque Bickley is listed on any other radioactive materials licenses as either an authorized individual or Radiation Safety Officer, could you please provide the license number and a copy of that license, if available.

When providing additional training and experience, it is helpful to include dates and locations in the response. If you are unable to provide a response in the next few days, could you please provide a date by which you will be able to respond? For quickest processing, it is best to provide your response as a pdf file attached to an email message.

Thank you in advance for your attention to this matter.

Sincerely,

Sara
