To Whom It May Concern,

Eastern Michigan University would like to place its program in standby status while we are without an authorized user. Eastern Michigan University has not made a final decision to permanently cease operations and considerations surrounding hiring qualified individuals are continuing. Eastern Michigan University has a Type B Broad Scope License with the NRC, license number 21-06885-01. We would like permission to store our radioactive materials securely until needed. Eastern Michigan University will adhere to all regulatory requirements for storage and security and conduct the program in accordance with NRC regulations and our license conditions. Eastern Michigan University will conduct a physical inventory every 6 months to account for all sealed sources and/or devices received and possessed under the license. I am the Radiation Safety Officer for the University and on our license. I will be the individual who will be responsible for maintaining control of the licensed material while it is in storage. Please let me know if you have any questions or need additional information to process the request. I appreciate your assistance in this matter.

Thank you,

Hello James,

I apologize for the lack of follow up – I meant to circle back to request that the information in your original email be submitted as a signed and dated pdf, but it must have fallen off my radar. We can only accept signed documents as official licensing requests at this time.

If you could please resubmit as a signed and dated pdf I will make sure that it is entered into our system today.

Thank you,

Laura

Good Afternoon Laura,

First, I would like to thank you for sending me the email on March 10th and attaching the Checklist for Evaluating Requests for Possession-Only Permanent and Standby Licenses. As of today, I have not heard back about placing the Eastern Michigan University's program in standby. Could you check if my request was received? Thank you for your help.

Jim
