Hi Carmen and Ross,

The NRC staff has completed its initial review of Oklo's draft Chapters 2, 4, 5, 8, and Emergency Plan for the proposed electrochemical reprocessing facility in Oak Ridge, Tennessee. Observations for discussion are provided in the attached secure envelope and, if you wish, can be addressed in a future non-public meeting.

The NRC will continue to review Chapter 2 along with subsequent chapters as they become available through Oklo's portal. Please note these observations are preliminary and may change after discussions. A comprehensive review will follow once the application is formally submitted.

In compliance with 10 CFR 2.390 of the NRC's "Agency Rules of Practice and Procedure," this email will be accessible for public inspection in the NRC Public Document Room (PDR) or electronically through the Publicly Available Records System within the Agencywide Documents Access and Management System (ADAMS).
