You have got to be kidding! You should NOT recycle radioactive waste let alone put it into household stuff. Please put me down for a negative response. Please extend the comment period to allow others to hear of this nonsense so they too can respond!! We are not responsible for your radioactive waste and there is no way that stuff should be release anywhere not to mention for your profit. You should recapture what has already been released and find another way to get rid of it. DO NOT release this stuff for household use. You don't have a clue as to the physical affects that would cause. Do you want a kid with 3 eyes and a hideously formed body? I don't!
