Dear Secretary of the Commission:

I recently learned from the Union of Concerned Scientists that two proposed rules, one to limit the number hours worked by nuclear power plant personnel, and a second requiring training for plant supervisors and managers regarding employee protection regulations. I feel strongly in favor of these two rules, and write to urge you to support them.

It is essential to prevent fatigued workers from making dangerous mistakes, and the rule imposing work-hour limits would effectively help to prevent this. Furthermore, nuclear power plant supervisors and managers must not be allowed 'ignorance of the law' regarding ~~employee~~ harassment and intimidation of employees who raise safety concerns. Supervisors and managers should be required to learn about the existing employee protection regulations.

Thank you for your consideration of these important issues.

Sincerely,
Charles Safran
