Dear Secretary, US Nuclear Regulatory:

I am writing to express my concern about recycling radioactive waste into consumer products. I strongly recommend that this not be permitted. Recycled nickel, copper, steel, aluminum and concrete that is radioactive should not be recycled. No dose is acceptable.

Thank you for your attention to this important matter. As cancer and other health hazards have been increasing from environmental pollution, it is critical that the US government not authorize recycling of radioactive materials which would pose potential health problems.

Sincerely,
Nancy Lathen
