Your letter to Nancy Gwinn, Director of the Smithsonian Institution Libraries, was referred to me for answering. I am the Botany Librarian in our library system and find the subject matter somewhat out-of-scope for the work done in the Botany Department, but I find that your search for literature seems to be very well-planned and thorough. It surely seems to cover the available literature exhaustively and should be very useful in supporting the decision-making process being considered by the NRC. Please feel free to forward these comments of any source you deem appropriate.
