Thanks Steve. I will start checking the availability of our staff. As you know, we expect to have a large number of attendees.

My quick look is that 3/15 is the last day of the RIC. As best I can tell from the agenda, there will be two technical sessions on the 15th and no major presentations. The new plant technical sessions that day are:

- TH24 - New Reactors Licensed under 10 CFR Part 52: The End Game—Coordinating Rules, Licenses, and Mandatory Hearings
- TH30 - Construction Inspection Program—Transitioning to Execution

I would have attended these but attendance is not essential.

We presently have an internal seismic meeting scheduled for 3/20. I believe that is a different set of personnel so that may not be a conflict as well.

How long do you anticipate the meeting lasting? If not all day, do you anticipate a morning meeting or an afternoon meeting? What level of management do you expect to attend (technical branch chief? Anyone higher?)?

Thanks for proposing these dates,

Donald R. Woodlan
