

New Reactor Licensing

Session Summary

In order for the NRC to ensure that the quality of their review and the health and safety of the public are maintained for new reactors licensed under Part 52, a standardized, uniform, design-centered approach to both COL application development and NRC review is essential, given resource constraints, schedule pressures, and stakeholder expectations.

New Reactor Licensing

Questions & Answers