

Mr. Michael Case is currently the Director of the Division of Policy and Rulemaking in the Office of Nuclear Reactor Regulation. Mr. Case has worked for the Nuclear Regulatory Commission for 17 years in a broad range of managerial assignments including ones in the inspection program, operational experience, operator licensing, budget, planning and information technology. Mr. Case's technical experience covers a range of areas such as license renewal, advanced reactors, radiological controls, events assessment, safeguards, non-power reactors and rulemaking.

Mr. Case previously worked in industry as the Operations Manager at the Shoreham Nuclear Power Station where he was a licensed Senior Reactor Operator. Mr. Case also served in the Navy's nuclear power program.