

John F. Rogge

Branch Chief - US Nuclear Regulatory Commission, Region I

Mr. Rogge is currently a Branch Chief in the Division of Reactor Safety, Region I office located in King of Prussia, PA. He is responsible for the Fire Protection Inspection Program and Electrical inspections. He has been with the NRC since 1981. His experience includes being the Senior Resident at the Vogtle Electric Generating Plant during construction and operations and in several management positions in Region I. Before joining the NRC, Mr. Rogge served five years in the U.S. Navy's nuclear submarine program. He holds a Bachelor Science in Electrical Engineering from Georgia Institute of Technology.