

Bio for Richard P. Correia

Richard P. Correia is the Deputy Director for Security Oversight, Division of Security Operations, Office of Nuclear Security and Incident Response (NSIR). Prior to joining NSIR, he was the Deputy Director for the Program Management, Policy Development and Planning Staff in the Office of Nuclear Reactor Regulation (NRR). Mr. Correia held several other positions in NRR including Section Chiefs in Reactor Licensing and the Maintenance Rule Program, and senior operations engineer in Human Factors and Quality Assurance organizations. He first joined the NRC as an inspector in the Office of Inspection and Enforcement. Prior to coming to the NRC, Mr. Correia held senior engineering positions for Stone and Webster Engineering Corporation, Duke Power Company, and Carolina Power and Light Company. He received his Bachelor of Science Degree in Mechanical Engineering from Southeastern Massachusetts University and holds Professional Engineering licenses in Virginia and Connecticut.