

Stephanie Bush-Goddard

Dr. Bush-Goddard has been with the Nuclear Regulatory Commission for over 10 years. Currently she provide supervision, leadership and project management to a diverse technical staff of Masters and Ph. D. level Engineers and Scientist in the Office of Research, Health Effects Branch. She is a graduate of the Leadership Development Program at NRC, was an Adjunct Assistance Professor at the University of Maryland. Dr. Bush-Goddard was a recipient of graduate level fellowships and received numerous performance awards at the NRC. She has more than sixteen plus years of professional and educational experience in the materials, waste, security and reactor arenas. This includes both a breath and depth in a wide range of radiation protection issues, rulemakings and performance assessments methods.