

Michael Dusaniwskyj

As an Economist in the Office of Nuclear Reactor Regulation, Mr. Dusaniwskyj has over 12 years of service with the United States Nuclear Regulatory Commission. Primary responsibilities include conducting financial qualifications and decommissioning funding assurance reviews for license transfers, as well as performing the same reviews for Combined Operating License Applications for the New Reactor Office. Prior to joining the NRC, Mr. Dusaniwskyj has about 18 years of experience in various capacities in the energy field, including USAID service as an Energy Advisor, Government of Ukraine.

Mr. Dusaniwskyj has taught Economics at several institutions and is a Fulbright Senior Specialist having taught Economics in Ukraine. Mr. Dusaniwskyj holds advance degrees from Fordham and Columbia Universities in New York City.