

Laura Gerke

Laura Gerke has worked for the U.S. Nuclear Regulatory Commission for 22 years, initially as a Congressional Liaison Officer in the Office of Congressional Affairs, and recently as an Organizational Effectiveness Advisor in the Office of Nuclear Reactor Regulation. In 2008-09, she served on the agency's Internal Safety Culture Task Force, which proposed initiatives to improve the NRC's internal safety culture. Laura is currently the Acting Senior Safety Culture Program Manager in the Office of Enforcement. She previously worked for seven years for the U.S. House of Representatives.