Nuclear Energy Institute's Tabletop Exercises

On December 18-19, 2013, the staff, in support of Risk Prioritization Initiative and Cumulative Effects of Regulation, observed the Nuclear Energy Institute's (NEI) "tabletop exercises" on prioritization. NEI used preliminary guidance from the draft NEI Guidance which they had transmitted to NRC on October 1, 2013 (ADAMS No. ML13276A147). The tabletop exercises consisted of five generic topics to test the risk-informed prioritization process. Staff provided feedback and insights on the proposed process. Following the meeting, NEI indicated that it would use the NRC staff insights to revise the guidance in support of a set of plant-specific tabletop exercises planned for the February 2014 timeframe. It is expected that the outcome of these tabletop exercises would inform both the staff in its development of a notation vote paper and NEI in its effort to assemble final guidance to support potential piloting activities in the future.
