EO14300 Rulemaking
NRC to Hold Virtual Public Meeting on Reducing Barriers to Medical Use Licensing

ROCKVILLE, Md. — The Nuclear Regulatory Commission will hold a virtual public meeting on the proposed “Reducing Barriers to Medical Use Licensing” rule, published in the Federal Register July 27.

What: NRC staff will provide an overview of the proposed rule and related implementation activities and answer questions.

When: Thursday, Aug. 20, 1-2:30 p.m. Eastern time.

How: Participants may attend online via Microsoft Teams.

The U.S. Nuclear Regulatory Commission was created as an expert, technical agency to protect public health, safety, and security, and regulate the civilian use of nuclear materials, including enabling the deployment of nuclear power for the benefit of society. Among other responsibilities, the agency issues licenses, conducts inspections, initiates and enforces regulations, and plans for incident response. The NRC is collaborating with interagency partners to implement reforms outlined in new Executive Orders and the ADVANCE Act to streamline agency activities and enhance efficiency.
